

DAVE REGESTER PRODUCTS

Dave Regester's domestic pieces are finished with Sunflower oil and beeswax. After use they can be washed in hot running water and if necessary with water containing washing up liquid. They can then be drip dried. They are not machine washable and should not be soaked.

After some use they acquire a patina which makes them unique to their user but the grain may become less colourful in which case the application of a little sunflower oil will soon restore this.